

DATA RELEASE DATES

Census 2000 Supplementary Survey* 2001 Supplementary Survey*

Census 2000
Supplementary Survey*
and 2001 Supplementary Survey*
provide data for:

- ☆ The nation
- ☆ 50 states
- ☆ Washington, DC
- ☆ Many counties
- ☆ Many cities
- ☆ Many Metropolitan Areas
- ☆ Over 600 unique geographies

Both the Census 2000 Supplementary Survey and the 2001 Supplementary Survey use the methodology and questionnaire from the American Community Survey.*

Geographic areas of 250,000 or greater population number more than 600 unique entities (see "Accuracy of the Data" in the Advanced Methodology section of the American Community Survey Web site for limitations to areas published).*

Census 2000 Supplementary Survey*: release of updated core tables and more than 600 additional tables, including race iterated tables, for all geographies of the Census 2000 Supplementary Survey on American FactFinder and profiles and the Public Use Microdata Sample (PUMS) files on the ACS Web site.

Spring
2002
(completed)

Core tables are the basic population and housing tables which are used to prepare site profiles.

2001 Supplementary Survey: release of 2000 to 2001 change profiles for the nation, for 50 states, the District of Columbia, and areas of 1 million or more population; and single year profiles for areas of 250,000 or more on the ACS Web site; plus over 100 core tables for areas of 250,000 or more population on American FactFinder.

November 7,
2002
(completed)

2001 Supplementary Survey: release of more than 600 additional tables, including race iterated tables, for all geographies of the 2000-2001 Supplementary Surveys on American FactFinder, plus the Public Use Microdata Sample (PUMS) files on the ACS Web site

Winter
2002-2003

Census 2000 Supplementary Survey and 2001 Supplementary Survey: release of CD-ROM containing profiles and 700+ tables for the nation, 50 states, District of Columbia, substate areas and population groups of 250,000 or more, and Public Use Microdata Sample (PUMS) files; also includes the American Community Survey Test Sites and subsites with populations of 65,000 or more.

Winter
2003

On November 7, 2002 the Census Bureau published revised estimates for the Census 2000 Supplementary Survey. A similar revision is currently underway for the ACS data. Because of this some users may notice discrepancies in the data when comparing ACS 2000 data to estimates for the Census 2000 Supplementary Survey.

Visit the American Community Survey Web site <www.census.gov/acs/www>
The American FactFinder Web site: <<http://factfinder.census.gov>>
Call 1-888-456-7215